

ONLY TWO LEFTOVERS IN TRUMAN CABINET

PRESIDENT TRUMAN

AP Wirephotos

A YEAR AGO, the day President Roosevelt died, his vice president, Harry S. Truman, was sworn in as President at the White House while the last Roosevelt cabinet looked on. Of the 10 in that cabinet, only two are cabinet members today. They are James Forrestal, secretary of the Navy since 1944, and Henry A. Wallace, secretary of commerce since March 2, 1945. In the first changes, a new attorney general, a new postmaster general and new secretaries of agriculture and labor were sworn in June 30. In the latest, Julius A. Krug became secretary of the interior March 18. In each pair of pictures the retired cabinet member is on the left and the current officeholder is on the right.

SAYS FRANCO'S ARMY POISED

Ex-Dean Charges Troops Are Massed on French Border as UN Feud Rises.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, April 12—The mounting controversy over the Franco government in Spain, expected to reach the floor of the United Nations security council next week, was swelled today by an ex-dean of the University of Madrid, one-time ambassador to Washington and pre-war cabinet member, told a press conference last night he had documentary proof of the existence in Spain of "an aggressive spirit and an aggressive plan against France."

Dr. Fernando De Los Rios, former dean of the University of Madrid, one-time ambassador to Washington and pre-war cabinet member, told a press conference last night he had documentary proof of the existence in Spain of "an aggressive spirit and an aggressive plan against France."

He expressed hope the document which he referred to—supposedly found in Spain by Republican agents—would be presented to the council when it takes up Poland's charges that Spain is a threat to world peace and that Franco is harboring German soldiers experimenting on new atomic weapons.

De Los Rios made his accusations against the Franco regime during a press conference in Washington. The Polish charges were political, The President did not elaborate.

The Polish indictment was placed on the council's provisional agenda last night for consideration next week immediately after the Russian demand for dismissal of the Iranian case is disposed.

At full hearing on the Spanish case is assured and at least four members are expected to press for some means of cracking down on Franco, they are.

Mexico and Poland, the only council members recognizing the Spanish Republican exiles in Paris as a government; Russia, which has recognized the Franco regime and France, which acts as a most concerned neighbor of Spain.

The United States and Britain, while willing to hear Poland's case, are represented as favoring individual decisions by each nation in respect to relations with Franco as opposed to any concerted action.

De Los Rios said last night the

Flow of Food from Argentina To Europe Due To Begin Soon

By The Associated Press
BUENOS AIRES, April 12—Three European countries, Great Britain, France and Italy, all reduced to critical food levels, may expect help soon from Argentina.

Scheduled to arrive in London about April 27 is a British refrigerator ship carrying between 5,000 and 6,000 tons of Argentine meat. This will be the first shipment of Argentine meat to England since April 1, when a general meat-packing strike halted all exports.

Italy, promised 100,000 tons of grain last September as a gift from Argentina, has received no deliveries because of transport difficulties. Before the end of April 20,000 tons of corn and 7,000 tons of wheat are scheduled to be on their way from Buenos Aires.

Italy Uses Ships
The grain will be carried in three of six Italian ships recently returned to Italy by Argentina.

The wheat will be a part of Argentina's promised gift to Italy. The corn is being purchased for Italy by the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration.

Ready in Buenos Aires for shipment to Italy as a gift are 20,000 tons more of corn, awaiting only completion of repairs to three Italian ships, expected to sail in May.

France, also promised 100,000 tons of grain as a gift from Argentina, has received 9,000 tons of corn. Ready for shipment, awaiting vessels, are 1,500 tons of corn in Buenos Aires, and 4,000 tons of corn in the port of Rosario.

France also received 5,000 tons of meat as a gift from Argentina. These shipments, except the one shipment of corn to Italy, are apart from any purchases UNRRA may make in Argentina for European distribution.

Argentina declined membership in UNRRA on the grounds its exportable food surplus already had been committed.

Willing To Talk
The foreign office, however, signified willingness to cooperate with the international organization and said it would be pleased to confer with an UNRRA representative.

Internal transportation problems, labor difficulties and shipping failures have been barriers to the flow of food from Argentina, one of the world's major exporters of meat and grain.

The United States is helping solve the transportation problem by consigning 30,000 automobile and truck tires to Argentina. Some already have arrived and most of the remainder are enroute.

On March 20 work was resumed on a limited scale when 83 men returned to the plant. It was reported here today that this number had increased until 160 of the 200 employees were at work.

Since the first men returned to the plant, taking their meals and sleeping there. Only a few at a time have gone home to spend the night.

George Mindling, meteorologist at Columbus, said several northern Ohio areas could expect minimum temperatures of 28 degrees, but that generally it would not be so cold tonight as last Wednesday when fruit crops were hard hit in some places.

He said that wet snow which was general in central Ohio last night did negligible damage.

Lima and Dayton reported 29 degrees last night. Others where the mercury hit 22 or below were: Napoleon, Toledo and Springfield 30; Canton 31; Ashland, Circleville and Akron 32.

It was 33 at Columbus, 35 at Cincinnati and 37 at Cleveland.

BUCYRUS STEEL STRIKE ENDED

Union Announces Walkout Terminated at Crawford Foundry.

Special to The Star
BUCYRUS, O., April 12—The strike of approximately 200 employees of the Crawford Steel Foundry Co. which began Jan. 20 was ordered terminated today by union officials.

Paul Thomas, president of United Steelworkers local 3348 (CIO) in a brief statement issued here this forenoon said, "The strike at the Crawford Steel Foundry Co. has been terminated."

There was no further explanation from the union and company officials made no statement.

Thomas directed union members still on strike to return to work Monday morning.

The approximately 200 employees went on strike Jan. 20 in the nationwide steel industry walkout.

It was unofficially reported here that the men would return to work at the pay rate in effect when the strike was called.

On Feb. 11 more than 130 employees signed a full page advertisement in the Bucyrus Telegraph-Forum requesting the company to reopen the plant. Union leaders at the time said the material in the advertisement had been misrepresented to the employees and that a number later withdrew their names.

However, on Feb. 12 the company reopened the gates in an effort to resume operations. The return of any men was blocked by approximately 200 pickets who surrounded the plant for several days.

TRUMAN VOWS TO CARRY ON ROOSEVELT NEW DEAL FIGHT

PLOTS COURSE SLIGHTLY LEFT FOR NEW YEAR

Starting Second 12 Months, President Backs FEPC, Poll Tax Repeal.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, April 12—President Truman piloted Democratic political policy steadily left of center today as he began his second year in the White House.

With a statement that he stands solidly behind federal legislation to abolish state poll taxes and establish a permanent fair employment practice commission, the President emphasized he was not veering from the broad objectives laid down by his predecessor.

At the same time Mr. Truman scotched any thought of some southern elements of the party that he might be asking political peace with them.

Mr. Truman's reaffirmed support of anti-poll tax and FEPC measures "and all similar legislation," came at a crowded White House news conference yesterday.

It provoked mixed reaction among Capitol Hill Democrats. Some privately read into it White House support for an announced CIO campaign to purge southern members of congress who fight such measures.

Pepper Is Pleased
Senator Pepper (D-Fla.), an advocate of both poll tax repeal and a permanent FEPC, said he was "immediately gratified" at the President's statement. Pepper previously had said he disagreed with Mr. Truman's view—expressed in an off-hand way at Chicago last week—that the poll tax question was a matter for the states to settle.

Unlike his Chicago statement, there was nothing off-hand about Mr. Truman's newest policy announcement yesterday. When a reporter asked about the Chicago remark, the President picked up a typed statement and read it.

"I have not changed my position on federal anti-poll tax legislation," the President read in a firm voice. "I am still in favor of federal legislation to end the closure on this issue in the senate and I would do so again if I were a senator."

(Closure is senate procedure by which debate is limited on a bill and an eventual vote is forced if two-thirds of the senators present agree to invoke the rule.)

Mr. Truman went on to say that he favored state action holding that there was no contradiction between it and federal action. He mentioned that several states had abandoned such levies in what he called "a step forward."

Cites Example
Saying federal consideration may have stimulated state action, he added:

"For example, while we were pressing for federal action on fair employment practice legislation, several states and a number of municipalities have adopted fair employment practice acts."

"Federal legislation and state legislation should supplement one another wherever possible. I am in favor of both federal and state action on anti-poll tax legislation, FEPC and all similar legislation."

And, the President concluded, that ought to clear the matter up.

Truman and MacArthur Lose in Jap Voting

TOKYO, April 12—Incomplete returns today from scattered Tokyo precincts in Japan's general election gave General MacArthur a 1,200 per cent lead over President Truman for a seat in the diet.

MacArthur received 12 votes; Truman one.

Both were edged out by hunger. Thirteen ballots were marked "more food."

TYPHUS SPREADS IN JAPAN

World Joins U. S. in Observing Roosevelt Death Anniversary

By The Associated Press

With President Truman heading the observance in the United States, many nations today paid tribute to Franklin D. Roosevelt on the first anniversary of the late President's death.

Mr. Truman, who became Chief Executive one year ago tonight, a few hours after Mr. Roosevelt passed away at his Warm Springs, Ga., "Little White House," flew to Hyde Park, N. Y., to speak at exercises this afternoon dedicating 23 acres of the Roosevelt estate, including the late President's grave, as a national shrine.

Earlier this week, the Times of London proposed that Grosvenor Square, where the United States embassy stands, be adopted as the site for a memorial statue of Mr. Roosevelt. At Prince Rupert, B. C., on Wednesday, Acropolis, B. C., which overlooks Prince Rupert and its harbor, was renamed Roosevelt Park.

Congress Gives Praise
In Washington, the house devoted an hour to eulogies. There was similar observance in the senate with Majority Leader Barkley (D-Ky.) the principal speaker.

In Spain, the Falange organ Arriba printed Mr. Roosevelt's picture on the front page and published an editorial praising his part in the war.

In Mexico City, a special congressional session was arranged, with Raymond H. Geist, U. S. charge d'affaires, delegated to read a message from Mr. Truman.

In Russia, the Communist organ Pravda praised Mr. Roosevelt in an editorial entitled "In Memory of The Great President."

Greece Has Parade
In Greece, at Athens, a huge parade was held, after which a eulogistic to the memory of the late leader was unveiled in the center of the Athens cathedral. It was arranged that some soil from the Acropolis should be placed aboard the Battleship Missouri to be brought to his country to be put on Mr. Roosevelt's grave.

Democratic National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan issued a statement in Washington, which said "that time comes when the unfinished work of the dead challenges us to rise to heights we never reached before."

STATES POLICY AT DEDICATION OF HYDE PARK

President Pledges New Faith in Ideals as Estate Becomes National Shrine.

By The Associated Press
HYDE PARK, N. Y., April 12—President Truman vowed today to carry on Franklin D. Roosevelt's fight against "tyranny" abroad and for the "progressive and humane principles of the new deal."

Standing "in reverence" at ceremonies dedicating "this hallowed spot"—the Roosevelt estate—as a national shrine on the first anniversary of Mr. Roosevelt's death, President Truman said:

"May Almighty God, who has watched over this republic as it grew from weakness to strength, give us the wisdom to carry on in the way of Franklin D. Roosevelt."

"The loss which America suffered through the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt cannot be softened by the spoken word," the President said. "Tributes can only emphasize our loss. But those of us who have survived in the seat of government can pay homage to his memory by our deeds."

Sees "Solenn Duty"
Mr. Roosevelt's foreign policy, he said, "recognized the solemn duty of this country toward nations which have been weakened in the death struggle against tyranny."

For these principles of international cooperation, Mr. Truman declared, "we are determined to fight with all our strength."

Mr. Roosevelt's domestic policy, he continued, was "a recognition of the basic truth that this government exists not for the benefit of a privileged few but for the welfare of all the people."

Mr. Truman linked up his own domestic program with the new deal legislation for which he said Mr. Roosevelt fought, asserting:

"These same principles apply to legislation assuring full production and full employment, legislation for a health program, a social security program, an educational program, a program to provide emergency housing for veterans and to solve the long-range problem of decent homes for all Americans."

These and other progressive measures stem from the principles for which President Roosevelt fought, for which we, who are carrying on after him, now fight, and for which we shall continue to fight."

Simply stated, Mr. Truman said, the nation's task "is to carry forward the underlying principles and policies, foreign and domestic" of his predecessor.

Strikes At Isolation

The late President said clearly, Mr. Truman said, "that we cannot continue to live isolated from other nations. We know that what happens on other continents must affect the welfare of our country."

"We are here not only to do honor to the immortal spirit of Franklin D. Roosevelt," he went on. "We are here to gain strength for what is ahead—to gain it from the inspiration of his deeds, and the inspiration of the humane principles which brought them to pass."

"Here, where he was born, in the spot which he loved the best in all the world, he is now at rest. We shall not soon see his like again."

In accepting custody of the Roosevelt estate as a national historical site, Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug stressed that it will be shared by people of all nations.

P.T.A. Council Votes $100 to Planning Group

A donation of $100 was voted by the Marion P.T.A. council to the Civic Planning Group campaign fund at a meeting last night in the Harding High school economics room. The cancer clinic was voted $10.

R. D. Baldwin of Toledo, citizenship chairman of the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers, spoke on "Building Through Good Citizenship." Mrs. Robert Craven, president, appointed an auditing committee composed of Paul Bingham, Mrs. H. E. Dilsaver and Frank Eyster.

It was reported that there are now 2,180 members of P.T.A. groups in the city, and the date of the installation banquet was announced as May 9 at First Evangelical and Reformed church. For the program numbers were presented by "The Young Men's 'Hungry Five' quartet in German band style composed of Alan Cleveland, William Benwick, James Cox, Bruce Bradley and Michael Phillips.

Province of Quebec Horn of Plenty for Anglers

QUEBEC, P. Q., (1946)—The greater part of the Province of Quebec's vast territory is ideal fishing country.

In most of the thousands of lakes and streams glittering on the ancient Laurentian Plateau and the Appalachian mountains, trout and bass are remarkably plentiful, pickerel and muskellunge also challenge the fisherman's skill. And a very vigorous and active fish, the landlocked salmon called ouananiche (pronounced wanawneesh), inhabits the waters of a 365 square-mile lake, "lac St. Jean," situated in a depressed section of the Laurentian Plateau.

That plateau, so often named in connection with Quebec, is an immense tableland north of the majestic St. Lawrence River, and it occupies approximately 93 percent of the province's territory, which is nearly equal to the combined areas of the twenty-one states east of the Ohio and Mississippi rivers. Its base consists of very thick and solid rocks belonging to the oldest in the world. The general height above sea level ranges between 500 and 2000 feet, with, at places, much higher summits. And the innumerable lakes and streams adorning that massive shield are a legacy of a comparatively recent ice Age. In the geologist's opinion, they are young. To prove this, he points to the fact that many lakes have several outlets and that the streams tumble in cascades everywhere. Of course, such restlessness means a tremendous amount of waterpower, and at the same time it spells wonderfully fine sport.

There are also excellent fishing districts for the connoisseurs in the non-Laurentian fraction of Quebec's territory. South and east of the long established and towering St. Lawrence River lowland extend the great Appalachian Ridges, locally called the Notre Dame Mountains. The portion bordering on the states of New York, Vermont and New Hampshire includes the Eastern Townships. Variety is the keynote of their well-known scenic beauty. Here, lakes and streams are less numerous than in the Laurentians, but some of them are situated at remarkable heights above sea level, and the majority offer genuine, and to the fishermen who care for bass, trout, pickerel, muskellunge and landlocked salmon, from the Eastern Townships, the Appalachian ridges run north-easterly. They lower east of Quebec City, only to rise considerably in the Gaspé Peninsula, and there, towering above the waters of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, they provide sites of a unique grandeur. The sportsman, especially if he prides himself on flycasting for sea salmon, finds here magnificent paradise, unrivaled save, in certain spots, by sections of the St. Lawrence north shore.

Fishermen all over America are expected in the hospitable Province of Quebec this year.—Adv.

OPA RELEASES PRICE RANGE ON GM CARS

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Retail prices for new Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Buick and Cadillac built prior to the General Motors strike will range from $66 to $417, higher than 1945 prices, reports OPA.

The agency said these prices reflected increases in wages and cost of materials incurred up to the fall of 1945. They do not take into account, OPA said, the 15 1/2 cents hour wage increase recently granted by GM at the conclusion of the strike.

This means, officials said, that prices for these cars may be increased later.

OPA said basic retail prices for the GM cars priced today were 2.5 per cent lower than prices for comparable 1945 models, but allowances for engineering and other changes boosted the cost above the level of four years ago.

The 2.5 per cent cut in basic prices stems from a reduction of dealers' discount margins by that amount. A further 2 per cent cut in these margins will apply on GM cars built since the strike. These will be priced later, OPA said.

The only other GM car previously priced was the 4-door Chevrolet sedan. It was $42 higher than the comparable 1945 model. In this case, too, the ceiling applied.

"Czar" Chandler Hints Diplomats Should Keep Out of Mexican Fuss

Happy Replies To Official Rap at Baseball Conflict

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, April 12.—"The state department," says A. B. (Happy) Chandler, the baseball commissioner, "has enough to do without meddling in baseball."

Replying to a statement in Washington yesterday by an unnamed state department official that the government "wishes baseball would show some indication of a desire to clean up" differences with the Mexican league, the former Democratic senator from Kentucky added:

"I'm sure our state department does not recognize disorders and other brookings of international affairs when its only reports are through the newspapers. I'm sure they await official reports before taking action. That's what this office does."

Mexican baseball is not recognized," he said, "because we've had nothing official on it."

Uncle Sam Annoyed
The state department spokes-man declared controversies over American players entering into agreements with Mexican league officials injured relations with "one of our closest and best allies."

"Baseball is making it tough on us," he continued, "We try to build up good will and this sort of thing tears it down."
By "this sort of thing" he referred to instances involving Vera Stephens, St. Louis Browns shortstop, who played for a short time with a Mexican league team but later returned to the Browns, and Mickey Owen, Brooklyn catcher, who reportedly signed a Mexican league contract but decided not to report. Jorge Pasquel, president of the Mexican league, has threatened to sue Stephens.

Chandler said "this office does not recognize Mexican baseball because we've had nothing official on it; not even a letter or any communication from the promoters of baseball down there has reached this office."

"We are prepared to go along with any country in the world that respects our rights and contracts," he declared, pointing to Cuba which he visited recently.

Agreement Reached
"We talked things over with Cuban baseball leaders and we came to a cooperative agreement," he asserted.

"American organized baseball has given the Mexican league every chance to cooperate with our leagues," the commissioner said, "but the only answer we have received has been challenges in the newspapers and threats that the Mexican league will break up our organization."

Chandler declared he had "read in the papers about a man named 'Pasquel' who reportedly has to lure American players from organized baseball," and added: "This office does not recognize Mr. Pasquel because we have never heard from him officially. Does Mr. Pasquel speak for the Mexican government? Just what is his capacity?"

OLD MAN PASSEAU FEELS FIT AS FIDDLE

Says He Should Last Five More Years.

KANSAS CITY, April 12.—That lung oil turn down in Mississippi is going to have to wait a few more summers on the Chicago Cubs. Claude Passeau—the old pitcher—feels fit for another five years.

The 37-year-old hurler recalls that for several years now he has been telling himself he'd soon be heading back to Lucedale, Miss., to see how much oil he could squeeze out of those lung nuts. "This time a year ago," said Claude, who served up a one-hit World series shutout last fall against Detroit, "I was having so much trouble with my right elbow that I was ready to fold up."

Passeau, who began his big league career with the Philadelphia Phils in '30, says his arm isn't causing him a "bit of trouble" this spring and he feels as good as 18 in ten years ago.

"Funny thing about my lung oil business," he remarked, "I bought the farm (750 acres of which 140 are in lung oil) ten years ago and figured then I could make a good living in baseball for another six years, the time it takes lung to begin producing."

"But I've already healed my retirement deadline by five years and right now I feel good for another five."

British Champ Heads for U. S.

Wants To Beat Mauriello But Also Needs Satin Bathing Suit for His Girl.

LONDON, April 12.—Next to beating Tami Mauriello in his United States debut at Madison Square Garden, New York, on May 13, Bruce Woodcock, England's heavyweight boxing champion, "simply must" get a satin bathing suit for his fiancée, Nora Speight.

"She wants a suit like actress Carol Landis wears," he smiled as he prepared to depart for New York today by airplane. "I've got to get it at all costs."

Woodcock and Nora plan to be married after he returns from New York. The 25-year-old Woodcock, who unlike other British hopes of the past has never been knocked out, was hailed as the future heavyweight champion by his manager, Tom Hurst, at a farewell press conference.

Hurst's belief is founded on 24 successive victories since Woodcock turned professional in 1942. Only his second pro fight—a six rounder—went the limit. He has five knockouts and the rest are technical kayoes in from two to six rounds.

While Woodcock has flattened the best fighters in Britain, boxing critics—long disappointed by British heavyweights—were skeptical about his chances abroad. He has proved he can catapult a knockout right but they fear that he has an inadequate defense. He feels his best fighting weight is 191 pounds.

Woodcock won the Amateur Boxing association's light heavyweight title in 1939. His amateur record shows more than 300 triumphs against three losses on points.

NEW YORK, April 12.—Herman Keiser, tabbed the slowest golfer since Cyril Walker won the open, played the first three rounds of the Augusta Masters tournament wearing an old pair of dungarees turned up around his ankles.

For the final day he came out wearing his "Sunday pants" and shot his worst round of the tournament. Dan Reeves, who pulled a fast one on the rival football league by switching his Cleveland Rams to Los Angeles, made another quick switch to get himself a California home. He traded his New York apartment for Actor Basil Rathbone's house. Meanwhile Chile and Adam Walsh, native Californians, are living in hotels.

New Drivers Will Be Scarce at Indianapolis

By The Associated Press
INDIANAPOLIS—Some 250 new race drivers have written for SACA, new Indianapolis Speedway president, wanting to go about getting a 500-mile race May 30 and winning $25,000.

A replying, regretfully, there just isn't much chance of driver making the grade.

An unknown driver is able to get a car, says there can be only 33 start-up in the machines. Compete drivers who have been can go the route.

There will be some brand new but most of the speedsters are veteran jobs. That is, they have been started before the race car never is finished.

It is unusual to find men putting new parts on a car the night before the big race. The owners have been in a long time and already have their favorite drivers.

Suppose a new driver buys or rents a car.

Then says Shaw, "he'll have to convince the drivers' committee that he can handle it without posing a menace to himself and the other men."

Shaw who has won the 500

height and weighs about 157 pounds. He lost 11 pounds in the one race in which he checked his weight.

The turns are banked for 93 miles an hour, and when you hit them at 150 it feels as if they slope the wrong way," Shaw says. "At that speed a four-trip-around-breeze shoves the car every which way. The roar of the motor deafens you, it jars your insides, and you get a hell of a headache. And you can't relax a second."

Shaw has a letter he received from five fans during the Auto beachhead battle. They had to live, eat and sleep in a tent and said they were coming to the speedway to take the 500 "in a breeze."

"If it were just a matter of guts, they'd do it," Shaw asserts, "but driving on the speedway is a matter of technique—and fast reflexes."

By Jack Sords Wandering Elk Makes Goats of Federal Wildlife Experts

By The Associated Press
MISSOULA, Mont., April 12—Federal officials here are puzzled over the case of Elmer, the wandering elk.

Wildlife Chief C. A. Jay of Forest Service Headquarters reports.

Elmer had an identity tag fastened on one ear at Yellowstone National Park, on the Montana-Wyoming border, in 1939. That same year he and other elk were moved and "transplanted" to the westward to the Deer Lodge National Forest in southwest Montana.

Recently forest rangers in Idaho reported finding Elmer.

It seems impossible that an elk could travel that far," said Jay. "But he has traveled several hundred miles and crossed two mountain ranges in order to go from the Deer Lodge Forest to the Coeur d'Alene River."

GI BRIDE IS WIDOWED

By The Associated Press

PORTSMOUTH, O., April 12.—Hopes of Charles Stagg, 24, for an early reunion with his English war bride, were ended yesterday when he was killed in an auto-mobile accident. Stagg, a former used toilet salt had toxic goitre, while 55.5 per cent of those who had purposely avoided the use of iodized salt had symptoms of toxic goitre.

such symptoms as loss of weight and strength, nervousness, irritability and damage to the heart. However, in a comparative study it was found that only 41 per cent of a large group who had used iodized salt had toxic goitre, while 55.5 per cent of those who had purposely avoided the use of iodized salt had symptoms of toxic goitre.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDLSEN, M.D.

Goitre

Prevention is the watchword of modern medicine. There is no doubt today who is not a firm believer in the old adage that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure because doctors of all men, know how complicated and risky even the best of cures can be when contrasted with the beautiful safety of prevention.

Consider goitre, an enlargement of the thyroid gland in the neck, which is likely to occur when not enough iodine is obtained in the food. Goitre causes many and adverse changes in the body and its cure often requires a major operation.

Yet, its prevention is sometimes so simple! A little iodine does the trick. Only a little is needed, but that little is all-important.

Why? Well, it is as simple as this: The secretion of the thyroid gland contains iodine. When iodine is lacking the gland attempts to make more of its secretion to supply the lack and in so doing enlarges. Usually there are no symptoms until the enlargement is so great that heavy pressure is put on the surrounding structures.

In certain parts of the United States the water and soil, and hence the foods grown in these areas, are lacking in iodine. These areas are called goitre belts because many people in these regions develop an enlarged thyroid gland or goitre. Consequently, it is of great importance that efforts be made to be sure that all persons in these areas get a sufficient supply of iodine.

Surveys have been made in many areas, for example, West Virginia, where in 1922, it was found that 80 per cent of the growing girls had goitre. Nevertheless, it has been shown according to Dr. Oliver P. Kimball of Cleveland that this type of goitre may be prevented by making sure that the body is supplied with sufficient iodine.

Studies were also carried out to determine the iodine content of water in certain areas and it was found that where there was no iodine in the water, more than two-thirds of the school children had enlargement of the thyroid gland.

In one state a determined effort was made to prevent goitre by the use of iodized salt. Only 0.02 per cent of potassium iodine had to be added to the salt, and this was done without any cost to the consumer. By means of lectures, newspaper articles, etc., a campaign was carried out to educate people in the knowledge of the value of iodized salt in goitre prevention.

As a result of this campaign it was found that the number of goitres dropped from 54.6 per cent to 17.2 per cent, after a period of four years.

The use of iodized salt has no ill effects insofar as anyone has been able to determine. It was feared that possibly the widespread use of iodized salt might lead to another type of goitre known as toxic goitre, in which there are such symptoms as loss of weight and strength, nervousness, irritability and damage to the heart.

However, in a comparative study it was found that only 41 per cent of a large group who had used iodized salt had toxic goitre, while 55.5 per cent of those who had purposely avoided the use of iodized salt had symptoms of toxic goitre.

O. W. U. Professor Tells Club of Dangers in Communism

160 Traffic Representatives Attend 25th Anniversary Meeting at Hotel Harding.

About 160 railroad men and industrial shippers from various parts of Ohio attended a twenty-fifth anniversary dinner meeting of the Central Ohio Traffic Club last night in Hotel Harding.

Principal speaker was Professor Hastings Eells of Ohio Wesleyan University. Keynote of Mr. Eells' address was that Communist elements throughout the world were expanding and America should be ever alert to the dangers which threaten democracy. Professor Eells declared "the Communists cannot be trusted," and pointed to the 100th anniversary of communism next year as being an important date in the development of communism throughout the world.

Other features of the program included the presentation of past president pins by C. K. Smaltz of the Mansfield Tire and Rubber Co., an annual report read by Thomas M. Dorsey of Mansfield, secretary-treasurer of the club, remarks on the club's silver anniversary by S. D. Ross, of the Huber Manufacturing Co. and an election report given by G. E. Sobers of the Marion Power Shovel Co.

Sinatra, sporting a fancy bow tie, said he came to the UN meeting in behalf of the National Conference for Christians and Jews.

LAST SERVICES HELD FOR EX-GOV. DONAHEY

By The Associated Press
NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., April 12.—Former Gov. Joe Donahey lay today in his final resting place among the scenes of his boyhood.

Funeral services for the erstwhile printer's devil who became governor three times and served a term as U. S. senator were held yesterday in the modest surroundings he loved best.

Symbols of his preference for simplicity was the plain casket borne by his six sons to the East Avenue cemetery grave. A huge glacial boulder placed there himself bore an inscription characteristic of his unostentatious nature: "Donahey."

Flags were at half-mast throughout the city as more than 1,200 relatives and friends from over the state crowded the First Methodist Episcopal church to hear the services. There was no music.

The rites were conducted by ministers of the Methodist, Presbyterian and Christian Science faiths. Rev. C. A. Parsons, pastor of the church, rendered his own eulogy for the Democrat, who had declined honorary college degrees "because he said he had not earned them."

Gov. Frank J. Lausche and State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson were among those attending the rites. Former Adj. Gen. Frank D. Henderson and Brig. Gen. L. S. Connolly draped the state flag over the casket before it was lowered into the grave.

Mrs. Mary Donahey, the widow, was accompanied to the grave by U. S. Senator James W. Huffman, the deceased's son-in-law. Mrs. Huffman was ill and unable to attend. Present also were Hal Donahey, Cleveland Plain Dealer cartoonist, and William Donahey, Chicago author and artist, brother of the former governor, who died Monday of a rare blood disease.

MANCHURIAN CRISIS

By The Associated Press
KAIYUAN, MANCHURIA, April 12—China's political rift widened perceptibly today in this communist surrounded, machine-gun-protected city as Gen. Liang Hwa-Sheng told correspondents he would "sweep away" all communists in a drive to northern Manchuria.
The arrival Tuesday of a cease fire team of American, communist and government members served only to worsen the situation. Liang told a press conference he had received no instructions regarding the cease fire team and declined to discuss its mission. He is deputy commander of government forces in northeast China.
Expressing fear for the safety of communist cease fire team members, government military authorities ordered them confined to their quarters.
A midnight attempt by a band of 120 communists to enter Kaiyuan—which has sandbag machine-gun posts and barbed wire tanglements—enlivened the situation. Fifteen minutes of machine-gun and mortar fire followed. Government officials reported the communists had been repelled without loss of life.
They further vexed government officials by blowing up railroad bridges six miles south of Kaiyuan, isolating the city more than 12 hours until the spans could be repaired.

Nation Mourned Tragic Death of Roosevelt Year Ago Today

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON, April 12—Shortly after 2 p. m. a year ago today, Franklin D. Roosevelt raised a hand to the back of his head and grimaced:
"I have a terrific headache."
These were the last words spoken by the fourth term president. He died two and a half hours later in a simply-furnished bedroom of his mountain cottage at Warm Springs, Ga.
As one of three reporters in Warm Springs when death suddenly overtook the 31st President, I was stunned, by its unexpectedness, like almost everyone else.
We were aware that Mr. Roosevelt was not a well man—that he was given to much sleeping, that he was not gaining weight as his doctors wanted him to do while resting in his "second home" in the south.
A Terrible Shock
But when we were summoned from a barbecue, to which the President had been invited but never attended, and heard the tragic news from the lips of Secretary William D. Hassett, it was one of the greatest shocks of our lives. The doctors said they were shocked, too.
Death came at 4:35 p. m. Washington time. We were called from our picnic shortly before 6.
"It is my sad duty," Hassett said in the presence of tearful associates, "to announce the President died at 3:35 p. m. (Central Time) of a cerebral hemorrhage." Dr. Howard Bruen, naval commander in attendance at the time, later changed this to "massive cerebral hemorrhage."
We rushed to telephones in the Hassett cottage and put in calls to our Washington offices. Before they could be put through, the White House had flashed a brief announcement of the death to news offices.
We filled in the details as the constitutional succession routine was carried out, the bereaved family was notified, and the world—still at war but sensing the end for which the war President had fought so untiringly—paid homage to a national and world leader.
An Ordeal for Widow
Mrs. Roosevelt, standing the ordeal like a soldier, flew to Warm Springs after her husband's successor, Harry S. Truman, had taken the oath. She made the trip back to Washington with the body—past sorrowing multitudes gathered along the 750 miles of track to the nation's capital—and on to the family home at Hyde Park.
There, in the rose garden of the Roosevelt home, the 63 year old leader was buried on a bright Sunday morning—April 15—as the Rev. George W. Anthony, rector of St. James Episcopal church, where the family worshiped, recited John Ellerton's poem: "Now the laborer's task is o'er; now the battle-day is past."

Congress Acts on Atomic Law

Drives To Get Rules Fixed by First Anniversary of Hiroshima Bombing.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, April 12—Congress drove today to lay down a law for the domestic control of atomic energy by the first anniversary of its use as a military weapon.

As drawn by McMillan's committee, the proposed control commission would have broader powers than any ever held by a government agency in peacetime.

The five-member commission, appointed by the President, would be a complete control over the production, operation and use of atomic energy.

Three consultative committees would be provided to work with the commission.

One would be a military liaison committee which could appeal to the President through the war and navy secretaries any action or law of action on the part of the commission.

A second advisory group would be composed of scientific and technical experts, and the third would be a joint congressional committee of like senators and nine house members.

The measure would set up stringent controls to make sure that no one gets materials or facilities for making an atom bomb.

The commission could distribute reasonable material for use in research, medicine and the like only in amounts sufficient to produce an atomic weapon.

OHIO WHEAT TO DROP

COLUMBUS, O., April 12—The state's record high of 80,000,000 bushels of winter wheat harvested in 1945 probably will slide to 44,220,000 bushels this year, the federal state crop reporting service predicted.

The 1946 yield per seeded acre, however, should be 22 bushels as compared with 20 bushels for the 10-year average (1935-44), the service said.

Ex-GI Set for Tour by Jeep and Tent To Win Nomination

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 12—With two jeeps, two pup tents and a stock of food provisions, George L. Mark, the former GI who has been barred Army "bonus" before two congressional committees, will start a state tour Tuesday in his campaign tour for congressman-at-large.

A 37-year-old former barber, supply salesman, Mark said today that "I am not a politician."

Four or five other ex-soldiers will accompany him on the tour expected to cover 80 points and last until about May 4.

"We are going to do virtually all of our own cooking and sleep in the tents every night," Mark, who was discharged from the Army Dec. 17, declared.

Mark said he intended to talk "direct to the people" and make a speech "anytime I get a group together." So far, he added, response to his campaign has been "very, very good."

He received considerable publicity in December when he appeared before the house and senate military affairs committees and urged elimination of the Army caste system and compulsory military training.

In addition to these, he is advocating in his Democratic campaign that atomic power be controlled by the United Nations and that the UNRRA receive more funds.

Other planks include turning the Palestine trusteeship over to the UN and a full employment bill that would guarantee jobs for all employees.

The father of three children, Mark said he is not out for personal gain, because he was in the Army only nine and a half months, but to "help the thousands of veterans who spent many grueling months under gunfire and Army discipline."

NEW SCHOOL PLANS DISCUSSED BY BRAY

Describes Improvement Program at Kiwanis Meeting.

At the Kiwanis club luncheon Thursday noon at Hotel Marion, J. B. Bray, co-chairman of the Civic Planning Group committee, explained the school bond issue which will be presented in the primary election May 7. He urged that each member of the club understand the operation of the program and also what is to be done in the schools as a result of the issue. He stressed the necessity of the people of the city of Marion to be prepared from the time the new school is built into the city in the future. He also told about the Civic organization and then opened the subject to a discussion by the members of the club and questions and answers.

Members of the club were Robert Stewart, Howard Lawson, E. E. H. All of Marion; E. J. Ankrom of Newark, O.; and T. J. O'Connor of Elgin, Ill.

Nylon Lines Here To Stay; Expert Says Shortage Till 1947

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, April 12.—Back to the sad tidings, ladies—the man says nylons for everyone are a year and a half away.

This mournful news, which could cause women's pages from coast to coast to be bordered in black, comes from Warren A. Beh, the man who peddles the yarn for every pair of nylons made in the U. S.

Beh heads nylon sales for the DuPont Co., the only company which knows the magic nylon secret.

Beh told a senate special committee on small business yesterday that DuPont now turns more than 90 per cent of its nylon yarn over to hosiery manufacturers. This is enough to make 30,000,000 pairs of nylons each month.

He said DuPont was trying to build a new plant, but was hampered by shortages.

"If all goes well," he said, "then we should be in full swing by mid-summer. I would say the supply won't be plentiful until the latter part of next year."

PRE-SCHOOL CLINIC HELD AT CLARIDON

17 Examined by County Health Department.

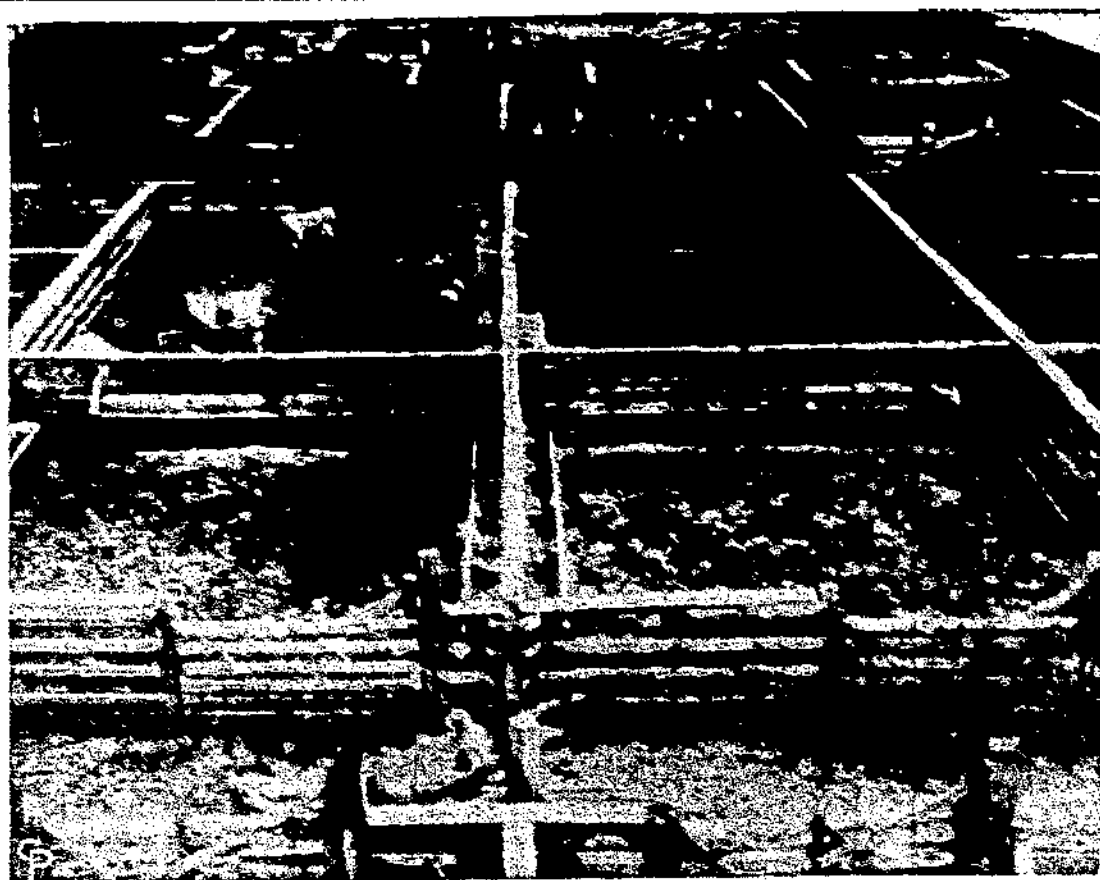

The Marion county health department completed its fourth pre-school clinic Thursday with the examination of 17 pre-school children at the Claridon school.

Assisting county health authorities with the examination was Dr. M. F. Axthelm of Caledonia. Forty students of the school were given diphtheria immunizations during the afternoon.

Next pre-school clinic will be held at New Bloomington next Tuesday. Mrs. Gladys Anderson and Mrs. Anna Sedelmaier, county health nurses, will assist Health Commissioner N. Sifrit with the examinations.

Physical condition of children examined so far has been very good, Dr. Sifrit reports. From the clinics at Morral, Grand Prairie, Pleasant and Claridon no serious physical defects have been found. Minor ailments have been referred to local physicians.

A new Coast Guard lightship is under construction and will be assigned to duty at the Diamond Shoal lightship station, off the coast of North Carolina.

MEAT SHORTAGE BECOMING ACUTE. Virtually empty pens in the Chicago stockyards give an indication of the shortage of meat, which is becoming acute. Packers claim that black market buyers are siphoning most of the cattle off the Chicago market to send to eastern markets.

Boyle Discovers Brisk Market in St. Bernards

By HAL BOYLE
AP Newsfeatures Writer
NAPLES, April 12.—Luigi is probably the world's only peddler of black market Saint Bernard dogs named Saint Bernard.

Luigi is a pint-sized Naples moppet with tousled black hair and a face where age-old Neapolitan cunning outshines any faint tinge of boyish honesty that might ever have been there.

He wears patches on his pants and the patches are patched, too. His oversized, flapping shoes have been ventilated by corrosion and are tied together by ropes.

"I was waiting for a bus outside the Naples post-office when Luigi caught me. I had turned down three street urchin junior salesmen in the previous five minutes. One wanted to sell a $10 wrist watch for $50. Another was peddling genuine cutglass diamond rings. The third tried to interest me in some vague educational project that included his sister."

Then Luigi came up and plumped a fat, squirming puppy into my hands.

"How much you pay, Joe?" "I don't want any dog now."

"Hessa a gooda dog," said Luigi. "Best in de black market."

"Where did you get him?" "Whitetea did, Joe. You gimme 20 dollars I needs buy some new shoes."

Hal Boyle

"What kind dog is he?" "He'ssa San Bernard dog. You gimme 15 dollars."

"What's his name, Luigi?" "Hisa name? Hisa name is San Bernard. All San Bernard dogs name San Bernard. Thisa fine dog. You getta stuck in da snow, he come pulla you out and give you drinka whisky. He's a good dog. How much you pay, Joe?"

"Look, Luigi, take this dog and mail him home to the Alps or something. I don't want him."

"Everybody wanta dog, Joe. He'sa gooda dog. He likesa you already. He wagga da tail. He don'ta catch much. He don'ta sleep much. He stay up all night to watch you and bitea da bad people for you. You needs San Bernard dog, Joe."

The puppy began to feel a little heavier. I think he had grown some during the argument and I had visions of standing there holding him until he became as big as a Shetland pony.

Luigi saw I was willing and began to put on the pressure.

"How mucha you pay, Joe? Itsa late now and I gotta go home. You give me ten dollars."

Just then a young soldier stepped up and patted the puppy. Frantically, I stuffed him into the soldier's hands and Luigi swung immediately to his fresh target.

"Hessa San Bernard dog, Joe. How mucha you pay?"

I escaped at a fast dog trot.

Six-Year-Old Boy To Have Rare Heart Surgery Performed

By The Associated Press
CLEVELAND, April 12.—Young Johnny Lynch, who is six, has the promise of a toy panda bear to keep him company in the hospital and that's almost as good as having a horse to ride, a reward fondly to be hoped for.

He arrived at babies' and children's hospital, in the University Hospitals group, late yesterday with his mother and father, Capt. and Mrs. John K. Lynch Sr., after a three-day automobile trip from Port Sill, Okla.

Johnny needs an unusual heart operation. He is similar to a "blue baby," because his circulation is poor and he gets out of breath easily. Any exertion, such as riding a horse—which is his idea of what life was made for—makes him sick in a very few minutes.

The condition was discovered while his father, an infantry captain who was wounded in France, was overseas. Captain Lynch returned recently and arranged for the operation with Dr. Claude S. Beck, a noted heart specialist. After several days of tests here, a date will be set for the surgery.

NAB NO. 1 FUGITIVE, DUE FOR EXECUTION

By The Associated Press
KNOXVILLE, Tenn., April 12.—The nation's most hunted criminal—rape-killer Earl McFarland—was back behind bars today, awaiting removal to Washington and eventual death in the electric chair.

The 34-year-old ex-Marine was captured here yesterday on a street corner a block from city jail by two FBI agents.

FBI Agent Norman H. McCabe said McFarland, who escaped from the District of Columbia jail April 3 in company with another condemned killer, Joseph D. Meekler, was being held in Knox county jail under $100,000 bond pending a removal hearing tomorrow.

McFarland was awaiting execution for the rape-slaying of an 18-year-old government girl in Washington in 1944 when he and Meekler made their daring break from the jail. Meekler was captured inside the district the same day.

The slow-headed youth said he had spent the last five nights of his short freedom living in the open "just like we used to do on Guadalcanal when I was with the First Marine division."

He had returned to his native Tennessee seeking help from friends and relatives, he continued.

Hold on to that "Million-Dollar Rain"

That welcome rain that brings new life to your land, crops and livestock is the traditional "million-dollar rain" known to every farmer and rancher.

There is an old saying, "You can't do much about the weather." But you can do a great deal about what the weather does to your land. Rain can bring relief after drought and is worth that million dollars—or it can be a savage enemy that dashes off with grit in its teeth and tears down our soil like a billion furious buzz saws.

Water that "walks downhill" is your ally in increasing the production of your land. And one secret of handling rainfall properly is "farming on the level"—by strip cropping, contour plowing, terracing. Cover crops, grazed waterways, dams and farm ponds also help control the destructive power of rain. Then you hold the rain where it falls. Surface run-off is slowed down to the point where it doesn't erode your topsoil away. And as your water "walks downhill," it soaks into the soil, makes plant food nutrients available to the roots of crops and, penetrating further, fills up nature's great underground reservoirs.

Water thus stored in the subsoil is the source of the wells and springs which supply homes and farms and ranches. For years this "water table" has been dropping very seriously in some sections. But where soil conservation has been practiced over large areas, the lowering of the "water table" has been a less serious problem. Soil and water can never be divorced in any good land management program. Those two great resources are wedded for all time, and from their union comes the wealth of America's agriculture and the prosperity of the nation.

Martha Leggett's Recipe for Easter Ham

The mellow flavor of ham rates it one of the most popular of meats. Glaze your ham with honey, marmalade or maple syrup to save sugar. Place the ham, fat side up, on rack in uncovered pan. No water needed, as the fat will baste the ham naturally. Bake in a moderately slow oven until tender. Three to four hours will be enough. Garnish the platter with pickled peaches or apricots, or hot spiced orange slices.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW?

What is the meaning of the expression "burning on the level?"

With what groups of people must a meat packing company like Swift & Company co-operate to operate successfully?

Who must earn a fair profit for the livestock and meat industry to operate?

Why is it important to make water "walk downhill?"

Answers to these questions may be found in the various articles which are printed elsewhere on this page.

OUR CITY COUSIN

CITY COUSIN DON'T SEE THE LITTLE ONE ON FILE

THE EDITOR'S COLUMN

In addition to being a business corporation, Swift & Company is people—62,000 folks like you and me who have pooled their savings to build a business. These savings are invested in plants and equipment, in livestock and other raw materials, and in all the many things that make up Swift & Company.

Without people there could be no business, no Swift & Company. These men, the people (shareholders) to supply the capital; others (farmers and ranchers) to supply the raw materials; many thousands (employees) who work with their heads and hands for the company; and the millions of consumers who buy the meat and other products.

The success of a business enterprise depends on how these various groups of people get along together. In other words, there must be profit and cooperation between the owners of Swift & Company and livestock producers, employees, and the company's customers.

To maintain goodwill we know that Swift & Company must: 1) pay fair prices for raw materials, including livestock; 2) pay a good day's pay for a good day's work; 3) provide the company to help educate and facilitate efficient; 4) pay Federal, State and local taxes; 5) earn a profit to give our owners a fair return on their invested savings.

The management of Swift & Company recognizes this five-fold responsibility to the various groups of people who make our business. It is to be sure that we manage our business efficiently, that we earn a sufficient profit to let us continue, expand and the well-being of our people.

OBJECTIONABLE ODORS AND FLAVORS IN MILK can be prevented by removing the cause. Food is the cause of most of the trouble. The most pronounced odors and flavors are produced by acids, enzymes, bacteria, mold, rancidity, and other causes. These are all removed by the process of pasteurization, which is the process of heating milk to a temperature of 160° F. for 30 minutes. This process kills all the bacteria and enzymes that cause objectionable odors and flavors. It also removes the rancidity that is caused by the oxidation of the milk. The result is a clean, pure, and delicious milk.

SUPPLEMENTARY PASTURES AND FEEDING

By the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Animal Industry, Washington, D. C.

Supplementary pastures and feeding are essential for the maintenance of a high standard of milk production. The most important factors in the production of milk are the quality of the feed and the health of the cow. The cow must be kept in good health and fed a balanced ration of feed. The feed should be of high quality and should be given in the proper amounts. The cow should be kept in a clean and comfortable environment. Ohio Solon Charges Vets on Short End

WASHINGTON, April 12—Rep. George Bender (R-Ohio) believes veterans are being treated unfairly in the distribution of surplus property and proposes five steps to "correct the situation." Bender said that department stores and other businesses have Army materials for sale. Bender told the house that veterans find equipment unavailable or in unusable condition. The congressman-at-large recommended: (1) A complete inventory of all available surplus property; (2) Immediate allocation of the available merchandise to each state based upon the number of veterans from that state; (3) Submission of a day-by-day inventory of merchandise to officials of the war assets administration in every community; (4) Detailed descriptions of the merchandise to each office; (5) "The system by which veterans are permitted to purchase property after federal state and local agencies and publicly supported institutions should give them an absolute priority."

33 OF "TOJO" JAPS WIN IN NIP VOTE

TOKYO, April 12—Thirty-three members of the 1942 "Tojo diet" definitely were reelected and 40 other former members were returned to the house of representatives on the basis of final returns tonight from all but six districts in the nationwide election. Conservatives apparently had clinched a total majority, although the leading Liberal party was nowhere near control. With 394 of the house of representatives' 468 seats decided, women had won 32. By tonight the party lineup of definitely won seats was Liberals 116, Progressives 86, Social Democrats 78, Communists 33, with three others apparently certain of victory: minor parties 39 and independents 72. This lineup means an enforced coalition in the house, which doubtless will be dominated by a conservative viewpoint. Many Social Democrats and probably most of the independents fall into this category under modern Japanese political conditions. The Socialists, however, showed surprising strength. Of the women elected, five each are from the Progressive, Liberal and Social Democratic parties, eight from minority groups, one is a Communist and eight are independents. Eight women were leading all candidates in their respective districts. Mrs. Michiko Yamazaki, who divorced her husband and was elected on the same day, was among the nation's six highest vote getters with 176,000. Three of the women definitely elected stepped into the campaign after their husbands were disqualified by General MacArthur's political purge directive.

TRUMAN SURE TESTS OF A-BOMB TO COME

WASHINGTON, April 12—President Truman, who once postponed atomic bomb tests in the Pacific, said today these tests are of vital importance and he had been assured the new target dates would be met. He issued a formal statement on the subject, but without any explanation of why he selected this particular time to give his views. However, Senator Huffman (D-Ohio) recently introduced a resolution calling for cancellation of tests. Mr. Truman said the experiments at Bikini atoll should provide information "essential to intelligent planning in the future and an evaluation of the effect of atomic energy on our defense establishments." The first of two tests of the bomb against warships was set originally for May 15. Mr. Truman postponed it for about six weeks, saying that many congressmen wanted to witness the trials but would be unable to do so at that time.

COUNTY GROUP HEARS FARM CREDIT AGENT

J. F. Hull Urges Land Be Made More Productive.
John F. Hull, assistant to the general agent of the Farm Credit Administration of Louisville, Ky., painted a pessimistic picture for farmers in the future when he talked to farm representatives last night at a meeting of the United States department of agriculture council. The meeting was held at Detrick's Inn. Mr. Hull declared that high prices for farmers do not mean high earnings and he urged farmers to prepare for the future by making their farms more productive and reducing the overhead cost. He also discussed functions of the Farm Credit Administration and the work it was doing to assist farmers. In charge of last night's meeting was Marion Clark of the Production Credit Association and H. L. Winters of the Federal Land Bank. About 25 men, including members of the council and guests were present. Next meeting will be May 15, and the topic will deal with the soil conservation service.
